Dear Doctor of Chiropractic,

The ACA is sponsoring a webinar for members: DOT Physical Exams: Everything You Need to Know Linda Phillips - Health and Welfare Specialist / Medical Programs. Wed, June 6 at 9p est. To register: <https://www3.gotomeeting.com/register/890145094>.

The LinkedIn.com discussion group is open to all and free. You do not have to be a member of the ACA or the ACACOH join in the group. Go to LinkedIn.com and search for American Chiropractic Association on Occupational Health. Some of the current discussions are about stress management, alcohol testing and OSHA recordable injuries. Is there something you'd like to bring up? Please join us.

Our Secretary, Randy Wheeler, DC, keeps finding great articles like the one below at <http://ehstoday.com/>. Bookmark it for a great source of current news in Occupational Health. This article shows the significance that long shifts have on nurse performance and job errors that may affect patient safety. <http://ehstoday.com/health/news/widespread-fatigue-risk-errors-nursing-shifts-3773>

Another great article in the Journal of Occupational and Environmental Medicine: Fatigue Risk Management in the Workplace.

This guidance article for physicians has good information about the causes that may impact your patients' abilities to heal, workplace standards for prevention in multiple industries and much more.

There's always room for one more. Consider supporting your specialty by joining the ACA Council on Occupational Health. Contact Ms. Elizabeth Auppl, iacohe@gmail.com. Elizabeth can also provide you with info for completing the federal education requirement for performing DOT physical examinations.

Sincerely,
Donald Brown, DC DACBOH

President, ACA Council on Occupational Health
